

BJN

British Journal of Nursing

Volume 17 Number 9 ❖ 8 May – 21 May 2008

A double-blind, peer-reviewed journal

CONTENTS

Clinical Focus on Hepatology Nursing

Diagnosing and treating a patient with primary biliary cirrhosis 566

Suzanne Sargent, Danielle Fullwood

Impact of a clinical nurse specialist on the treatment of hepatitis C 572

James D Shutt, Julia Robathan, Samir K Vyas

Editorial 563

Turning up the volume on youth participation

Alan Glasper

Comment 564

A word in your ear

Mervyn Morris

Education Matters 565

Contemporary codes of behaviour

Lyn Karstadt

Lymphoedema 576

Classification, aetiology and nursing management of lymphoedema

Amanda Honnor

Nutrition 588

The role of percutaneous endoscopic gastronomy in patients with dementia

David S Sanders, John Leeds, Kaye Drew

Professional Issues 595

Nurses' Day 100 years ago

Specialist Healthcare Law 596

The duty of care and political expectations. Part 4: standards as a political promise

Suzanne Fullbrook

Ophthalmology 598

Improving the accuracy of medication history taking in a diabetic eye clinic

Chris Tattersall, Nicola Hartry, AR Raghu Ram

International Nursing 601

Investigating and profiling the leadership behaviours of Jordanian nursing leaders

Majd Mrayyan, Israa Khasawneh

Castledine Column 615

The use of language in nursing care

Continence Supplement CS1–CS30

Joined-up thinking: enthusing frontline clinicians

Sharon Eustice

Older people, continence care and catheters: dilemmas and resolutions

Helen Godfrey

Promoting social continence using incontinence management products

Lindsay Dingwall

Urinary tract stones: types, nursing care and treatment options

Martin J Steggall, Maria Omara

Managing urinary incontinence with BioDerm® external continence device

Mandy Wells